

Applied Insight, LLC is pleased to share this invitation to two financial forums presented by the Centers For Financial Education:

Say Hello to Financial Freedom

Do you dream about taking a vacation, buying a car, sending your child to college, or being debt free? You can make your dreams a reality by learning easy methods to manage your money. The Centers for Financial Education will be here to empower you to build a solid financial future. In this first forum you will:

- Assess your current financial situation,
- Identify your short and long-term dreams,
- Create a spending plan,
- Become credit conscious, and
- Commit to fueling your dreams.

Improve and Protect Your Credit

Your credit history may be used as a measurement in obtaining credit, insurance, employment, memberships, rental property, and more. Having a strong credit report is critical in building a solid financial future; only you can make it stronger. This second forum will help you to:

- Understand the how the credit industry works,
- Obtain free credit reports,
- Understand reporting and scoring systems,
- Identify and control who is looking at your credit report,
- Protect yourself from identity theft, and
- Improve your credit.
